New grains executive for AACI

Agriculture investment company AACI has welcomed Andrew Tasker to the role of executive — grain finance and marketing.

Mr Tasker has more than 17 years industry experience and previously has held senior executive positions at National Australia Bank and ProFarmer. Mr Tasker previously has held positions at Volcot, AWB and Elders.

AACI managing director Andrew McBain, said Mr Tasker's experience complemented AACI's requirements as the company moved into a new growth phase.

"In the newly created role, Mr Tasker will be working closely with AACI's grain marketing team and partners to continue to evolve AACI's grain co-production product and assist in the development of new innovative products for farmers." Mr McBain said.
